SENATOR CAVANAUGH: Mr. President, I move 49....

CLERK: Wait. Wait a minute. Mr. President, there is an amendment to LB 494 by Senator Carpenter to add the emergency clause.

SPEAKER: Senator Carpenter.

SENATOR CARPENTER: What's this, on my amendment?

SPEAKER: Yes, LB 494.

CLERK: To add the emergency clause to 494.

SENATOR CARPENTER: 494 has to do with the Civil Patrol. That's the Civil Defense. The emergency clause I feel is necessary because the people in western Nebraska, from the Wyoming line and eventually probably down into the city of Omaha, are going to be in a high state of apprehension because of the rapidly rising waters and the protection level which they might survive beyond that, and because of the Civil Defense plays, at least did the last time, a very important part in this operation. For
